A Word From Our Director

Pantomime, as a type of show has been around for a 1000 years, but has become a particularly British form of entertainment.

An essential part of panto is to lampoon political leaders of the day. We have avoided this as we can't find anything funny about our current crop of politicians.

Every panto has it's own special ingredient. And Cinderella is no exception, with it's ugly sisters. We are indeed fortunate to have discovered, after a prolonged search, the two ugliest sisters on the East Rand!

Our story starts in modern day but does a 'time warp' to the past and carries on until we run out of ideas.

Ms. Honeyman - Eat your heart out!

Amateur Theatre

Amateur theatre is well represented on the East Rand with groups active in Edenvale, Boksburg, Benoni, Springs and Kempton Park. Please support them by going to see their shows. More importantly encourage your friends to go to the shows so that amateur theatre gets the support their quality shows deserve.
